

AREA OF Psychology

Bachelor of Science in Psychology (BSPSY)

The SSCR Psychology program aims to educate students in the study of the human mind; its functions, behaviors, and mental processes. Students will be exposed to the fundamental theories of psychology as well as their modern day applications in society, providing them exposure in the industrial, clinical, and educational field. The program also prepares them for the Psychometrician licensure exam should the students decide to pursue their professional license.
